NOLA Pagan Relief Fund Auction Authors Raising Dollars for the New Orleans Pagan Community

Sept 2005— Some of America's most prominent pagan authors are coordinating a NOLA Pagan Relief Auction at www.e-witch.com to raise money for the pagan community devastated by hurricane Katrina—a community often overlooked when it comes to the government funding doled out during times of need. The brainchild of Dorothy Morrison, M.R. Sellars and Christopher Penczak, this auction store exists for the express purpose of assisting the Pagan Community in New Orleans. As such all proceeds will go directly toward its aid, and will be converted into the supplies necessary to feed, clothe, and shelter our brothers and sisters there. The auction itself will include books, jewelry, and memorabilia from your favorite Pagan leaders—items that have never before been offered for bid, and will never be offered again.

To donate items, send a digital photo if possible, an item description, and your name/festival name/store name to me at headwitch@earthlink.net.

Then ship your item to:

Kathy Epps
WillowTree Press c/o Computime
10772 Indian Head Industrial Boulevard
St. Louis, MO 63132

In addition, a supply drive has been formed, and any useful items—from canned foods, to blankets, to toiletries—can be mailed to: Rolland Smith, 318 Ash Street, Franklin, TN 37064. Financial contributions are also accepted.

Dorothy Morrison (Virginia) is the award-winning author of The Craft, In Praise of the Crone, Everyday Magic, Everyday Moon Magic and Everyday Sun Magic. An expert on herbal, holiday, Moon and Sun lore, Morrison's work has appeared in Better Homes & Gardens, The Chicago Tribune, The Washington Post, The New York Times, Cosmopolitan, and Soap Opera Digest.

Christopher Penczak (New Hampshire) is this country's leading teacher of the Craft and author of The Temple of Witchcraft series.

M.R. Sellars (Missouri) is the author of the bestselling Rowan Gant Investigations series of suspense-thrillers, including Harm None, Perfect Trust, and the new Love is a Bond. He frequently gives lectures on dispelling the many myths and misconceptions that surround the practice of witchcraft, paganism, and the Wiccan religion.
